

Insulated Bags

Our Carry Home Bags are a revolutionary thermal bag used for the transportation of food products. They have been tailored for transporting frozen food, chilled food or even drinks and are ideal for food retailers such as butchers, fishmongers, delicatessens, farm shops etc. The thermal bags are ideal for keeping goods chilled from time of purchase to arrival home and for maximum effect can be used in conjunction with Chilled Packaging coolants.

Our Carry Home Bags are manufactured from the highest quality materials, they benefit from having welded seams to eliminate leakage, a wipe clean inner and outer, they also benefit from having soft padded walls and gusset helping to protect your products from impact as well as temperature, they are completely re-useable and can fold away for compact storage.

An insulated bag to help protect your products from temperature variation and to assist in keeping them chilled during their journey.

Chilled Packaging™ gel or ice packs can also be added to these bags to further enhance their performance.
