

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED. NEW FACTORY MOVE COMPLETED ON TARGET!

GCT's move to new, larger, purpose designed premises went according to plan with commercial, service, parts and finance departments all operating uninterrupted.

This is all part of a planned expansion in order to better serve industries needing GCT's expertise not only in the plastic and credit card industries but also general die cutting processes served by sister company, Global Cutting Technologies.

Even during these volatile economic times, GCT made a policy decision to continue with their expansion plans, including: expanded machine range, procurement of large stocks of second hand machines, re-vamp of website and a senior appointment to drive service, enhance internal systems and introduce high-tech marketing aids. And, of course, the new factory with state-of the art conferencing facilities.

Having represented the Sysco Machinery Corporation for 20 years, 10 of them with GCT, the directors, Bob Cosford and Chris Addis, enthuse about Sysco's ever expanding range and their capability to see new opportunities and fast-track developments to meet application challenges.

As Bob Cosford pointed out:-

In some ways, Sysco are regarded as a newcomer to the plastic card industry and yet they have been producing equipment for this market for 15 years. The card market and the machinery suppliers within it have changed so much in recent years with formerly well known names leaving it or being taken over. But Sysco are constant and have steadily expanded over the years resulting in a vast, state of the art facility producing sophisticated machines with very competitive pricing. There is no doubt that the pricing gets them noticed but the quality of the equipment alone can seal the deal.

Service – GCT's key advantage.

With a team of highly trained service engineers conveniently based in the Midlands, help is never far away or a long time coming! This is so obvious and important, yet it is surprising how many machinery suppliers have no service representation in the UK market, or use contractors, or have engineers constantly overseas and not available for UK work in a timely fashion. The fact that GCT service rates are so competitive is a distinct bonus.

In summary – sophisticated machines, competitive prices, the best service in the business – shouldn't you be talking to GCT? Contact us with your next requirement:
