

Langley Design were delighted to work with Bouygues UK at the redevelopment of the Royal Docks, London for the provision of much needed new private rented and affordable homes. Langley Design manufactured and installed durable Hardwood timber seating & edging details for the retaining walls to the shared communal garden spaces, and to the main public steps/ramped access areas leading from the new development to the local amenities. We provided simple but elegant Hardwood Pergolas to the roof gardens that complement the views out over the River Thames, the Thames Barrier Park and the Royal Docks.
