

We're super excited to invite you to our newly renovated showroom at 45 Great Sutton Street, EC1, during the upcoming Clerkenwell Design Week! Soundtect has a great range of fantastic acoustic innovative products to show you, all made from third-generation post-consumer recycled polyester!

Why work with Soundtect?

For the past 15 years, Soundtect has been steadfast in our mission for sustainability, turning post-consumer plastic into our acoustic solutions, contributing to a cleaner world. Although we're not British-made, our manufacturing hub, China, is a global leader in waste processing, recycling nearly half of the world's plastic waste (170 million tonnes) in 2020 alone.

In fact, China's plastic recycling efforts over the past decade have helped reduce crude oil consumption by 510 million tons and prevented 61.2 million tons of carbon dioxide.

Our commitment to reducing pollution and carbon emissions is real and impactful. Our products proudly carry the Global GreenTag certification, testifying to our authentic efforts toward sustainability.

Be inspired!

As the trends change, so do our wall and ceiling applications. With the help of new manufacturing techniques and audacious designs, we passionately create solutions that are as inspiring as they are effective at mitigating reverberation.

Visit our website to see more

With hearts full of appreciation for nature's beauty, we have created a new colour range. It's time to embrace our nature-inspired hues, poised to enhance your projects.

See our latest colours

Pumped for Clerkenwell Design Week? We certainly are! Come celebrate with us as we appreciate another year of design masterpieces harmonizing sound, light, temperature, and comfort. Don't miss out!

We get it, managing sound in offices is key! It's not just about looking good, it's about reducing stress and upping concentration. Partner with us at Soundtect and make a positive mark on your office and the environment! Pop by our stunning newly refurbished showroom at 45 Great Sutton Street. We've got a calming atmosphere and top-notch acoustic solutions, nestled amongst the latest Wilkhahn office furniture collection.

See you there!

Learn more

