by Joseph Plosky April 27, 2021

Your working environment has a direct impact on your productivity and how effectively you work. It affects your ability to stay focused and it is of the utmost importance to design your office in the best possible way. Your top priority should be to get things done and produce real results so, when designing your office space, you can achieve optimum productivity and make the most of it by adding some innovative components from EverBlock Systems UK.

With that in mind, we are going to take a look at some ways to make the most out of your office space:

Divider Walls- in any workplace, divider walls from EverBlock Systems UK are a great way to distinguish spaces. They can help assign distinct purposes of each space, such as cubicles, meeting rooms, and storage areas. It is easier to add depth to the room and you can create distinct spaces, without overtly defining them. Instead of building solid walls, vertical partitions could be enough to add interest and depth, while maintaining a minimalist aesthetic. Because each employee gets a dedicated area, they can personalise it based on their requirements. It could be contemporary and sleek or slightly quirky, depending on the workplace culture and nature of work.

Curved Walls- EverBlock Systems' curved walls are a more casual method to organising an open indoor space to achieve better productivity. It could give the workplace a more sociable and cosier feel. Softly curving walls come in different colours so they can be easily branded, or colours chosen to create an energetic workspace. With curved walls, it is easier to add rounded lines in the workplace, which gives it a more organic feel. Curved walls can also be used to separate personal working areas from public spaces, offering a sense of privacy.

Modular Reception Desks- in any workspace, modular reception desks are easier to adjust. You can accommodate them better to fit the latest trends in furniture and to meet the current dynamics of business operations. There's a wide range of modular reception desks available, with various design and colour options. You can place them anywhere to create a more productive and multi-purpose space. In a work-space with limited space, these desks can help maximise work areas. You can use creativity to make a dull business space look sharp and lively.
