

Stone Restoration

Combined Safety Solutions work with a stone restoration company who help to restore the interiors and exteriors of buildings. This company work within tier one construction projects throughout London. Combined Safety Solutions work with 3R Restoration to make sure all high-risk jobs are conducted safely.

This week Combined Safety Solutions have helped prepare the stone restoration company with policy writing when it has come to achieving their CHAS Elite status. Combined Safety Solutions doing this allows the restoration company to have a Health and Safety qualification behind them, making the company more desirable to main contractors throughout London.

The stone restoration company will have achieved the CHAS elite status with our help and guidance, something that is highly sort after when it comes to tier one construction in London.
